

DEPUTIES STAND BY GOVERNMENT

Course of France Is Approved.

Recall of Ambassador to the Vatican Sustained by a Big Majority.

Proposals of Extreme Element for Dissolution of Relations Between Church and State Rejected.

PARIS, May 27.—After an exciting debate, in which Premier Combes and Foreign Minister Delcasse set forth the action and purposes of the Government toward the Vatican, the Chamber of Deputies today, by a vote of 427 to 95, approved the course of the Government in recalling M. Nisard, Ambassador to the Vatican, and rejected all proposals of the extreme element for an immediate dissolution of the relations between church and State.

A resolution proposed by M. Ferret, Republican Nationalist, inviting the Government to negotiate with Pope Pius for a separation of the church and State, was defeated, 507 to 18. A motion by M. Allard, Socialist, to break off all relations with the Vatican and to denounce immediately the concordat, was defeated, 385 to 146.

Premier Combes took the initiative in resisting all efforts to force the Government to extreme action and his request that all questions regarding the separation of church and State go over until next January has the effect of postponing separation beyond the present session of Parliament. M. Ribot, minority leader, was among those voting in support of the Government.

The debate attracted unusual attention and great crowds were present, including Ambassador Porter and other members of the Diplomatic Corps. The principal speeches were those of Premier Combes and M. Delcasse. The Premier asked the chamber to leave the debate to its true significance. The Holy See, he said, in a document hurled to France, had denounced to certain European powers the insult which it alleged the head of the French State had inflicted on it by returning, in the undisputed capital of his Kingdom, the visit received from the King of Italy and by refusing to admit the claim of the ultra-montane to prerogatives presented as untenable. The Government had arrested this document by immediately recalling the Ambassador to the Vatican.

"This recall," said Premier Combes, "signifies that we can not allow the Holy See to interpret the presence of our Ambassador in Rome in a sense favorable to its claims or to make use of this presence as a justification of its claims which we reject. It also means that we will not allow the Papacy to interfere in our international relations, and that we intend to have done, once for all, with the superannuated fiction of temporal power, which disappeared thirty-four years ago. We will not withdraw the whole staff accredited to the Vatican, as we are bound by the concordat to maintain at the Vatican an agent of our Government for carrying on of business. We cannot deprive the Embassy and concordat by our own authority for that right belongs to the chambers."

Corpse Hung on Electric Wire

Lineman at Butte Electrocuted by Grounding an Incandescent Light Wire.

BUTTE, Mont., May 27.—George Isaacs, a lineman, was electrocuted today by grounding an incandescent wire at Anaconda. Isaacs made the connection by the rivets of his leather gloves coming in contact with the wire, some volts passing through his body. His safety belt caught him, and for several minutes the gruesome spectacle of a corpse hanging in midair was witnessed.

Russians Swept From Defenses

Japanese Are Now Nearing Port Arthur From the Land Side.

LONDON, May 28.—The Tokio dispatch to the Associated Press and Japanese officials' accounts are the only detailed descriptions that have yet reached London of the Japanese victory at Kin Chou. The victory is hailed by the London press as establishing, more certainly than did the operations on the Yalu, the superiority of the Japanese on land as well as by sea, since in the case of Kin Chou, if not at the Yalu, the Russians had ample time carefully to prepare their positions.

It appears that the conclusive victory was immediately followed up for the Post's Tokio correspondent asserts that the Japanese have swept the Russians from their defenses west of Taitienwan. And if the Telegraph's generally well informed correspondent is correct, the Japanese are already nearing Port Arthur, the Russians must have met a complete rout at Kin Chou. That the Russians were not only defeated, but routed, would also appear by the numerous capture of the Russian artillery.

According to the Mail's correspondent, the Japanese fifth division of veterans, which is destined for the storming of Port Arthur, has already landed on the Liao Tung peninsula. The Telegraph's correspondent at Japanese headquarters, communicating under date of May 26, says there is no change in the situation of the Japanese, but that there are frequent outposts encountered. "I suppose," he adds, "that the full is due to preparations for a great battle in the direction of Liao Yang."

The Mail's Sin Min Tung correspondent, telegraphing under date of May 25, declares there are only 2000 troops at Mukden.

RUSSIA HEARS NEWS FROM FOREIGN SOURCES

ST. PETERSBURG, May 27.—The news of the Japanese victory at Kin Chou was published on a Russian holiday, the anniversary of the coronation of Czar Nicholas. While there was little information in Government circles regarding the Russian defeat, the news caused the celebrations at Tsarskoye-Selo to be shortened. Only a brief service was celebrated in the chapel, instead of the customary litany, and the Czar spent the remainder of the day in the transaction of business.

Judging from its aspect, St. Petersburg might be celebrating a success instead of a reverse. All houses were decorated and carts and street cars were beflagged. The crowds in front of the bulletin boards were slightly larger than usual and soldiers and sailors, of whom the city is full, were in constant demand, delivering expert opinions to interested little groups along the streets and parks. In the hotels and clubs the bulletins were eagerly scanned.

All the news of the disaster to the Russian arms comes from foreign sources, and the papers are making no effort to suppress it. The authorities are without news of their own. It was rumored late tonight that Gen. Kuropatkin had telegraphed some details direct to Minister of War Sakharoff which will not be transmitted to the Czar until tomorrow.

The General Staff, in view of the foreign news of the capture of Kin Chou, admitted that there was little now to hinder a Japanese advance on Port Arthur itself and that the actual siege of Port Arthur had begun in earnest. The staff insisted, however, on the ability of the fortress to hold out.

RUSSIAN ARMY NUMBERS QUARTER MILLION MEN

BERLIN, May 28.—The Militar Wochenblatt estimates that the Russian field forces, inclusive of the Siberian reserves, number 250,000 men with 460 guns, and that the European reinforcements now mobilizing will bring the total up to 250,000 men with 438 guns. The Japanese field army, inclusive of the reserves, number 226,000 men with 780 guns, but the Militar Wochenblatt says it does not know precisely how many have been landed.

Latin Teacher's Death Unavenged

Alleged Slayer of Pretty Sarah Schaefer Found Guilty by Indiana Jury.

Special to The Tribune. EDWARDS, Ind., May 27.—Sarah Schaefer's murderer is yet at large. The pretty teacher of Latin in the high school, whose half-stripped and outraged body was found in a shed on an alley last winter, is yet to be avenged.

For more than two weeks James McDonald, a suspect, was on trial, charged with Miss Schaefer's murder. All of the powerful machinery of the Pinkerton detective agency and local influence was employed to fasten guilt on McDonald, but a jury has found him guilty.

It was decided to ring no bell when the jury had agreed on a verdict, lest it summon a mob that would deal summarily with McDonald. The defendant entered the courtroom by a roundabout way, and after hearing the verdict, he walked from the room a free man.

Miss Schaefer's death is one of the great murder mysteries. She was on her way to her boarding-house early one evening, was dragged up an alley to a shed, outraged and killed with a brick bat.

At one time her sweetheart, with whom she had quarreled, was suspected and arrested, but he was quickly released. Then a prominent banker was accused, but not arrested.

McDonald's arrest was made by a Pinkerton detective. His guilt was not generally believed, but the detectives wove a strong circumstantial chain about him.

McDonald will bring suit against the Pinkertons.

MURRAY STARTS A WATER SYSTEM

Mass Meeting of Citizens Vote to Supply the Business District, at Least.

TAXPAYERS of Murray to the number of 250 crowded into the old schoolhouse last night to take action in the matter of a water system for the city. A number of different propositions were presented and debated pro and con with spirit. Some were in favor of bonding the city to the extent of $25,000 and securing a system that would furnish water for culinary purposes for the entire community as well as furnish protection against fire. The plan in this case was to go up Little Cottonwood two miles and sink a number of artesian wells and pipe the water into the city from that point. This was finally voted down as entailing too heavy a tax on the people at this time.

The plan that was finally agreed to is to establish an electric pump in Little Cottonwood creek and a pipe system to supply the main part of the city with water. This will cost from $10,000 to $12,000, and it is expected to pay for it out of the collections from licenses in three or four years.

This scheme was opposed, of course, by those in the city who will receive no direct benefit from it; but it was strongly favored by the business element of the community in particular, who recently had very costly illustrations of the lack of fire equipment. It was also argued that this was but a start toward a complete water system for the city, and that as the cost was to be paid out of licenses it would not add to the tax burden of the people.

Williams Is Guilty of Murder

Jury at The Dalles Out Only Four and a Half Hours to Reach Verdict.

THE DALLES, Or., May 27.—After deliberating for four and a half hours, the jury at 5 o'clock tonight, found Norman Williams guilty of murdering Alma Nesbitt, near Hood River, Or., March 8, 1900. The penalty for the crime is death. Williams showed little feeling other than the nervous effort to restrain his emotions, which he very coolly illustrated through the trial. Williams' attorney immediately asked for time to file a motion for a new trial.

When the court convened this morning the prosecution immediately commenced their argument to the jury and the summary of the case. This was followed by Senator Henry E. McGinnis for the defense, who occupied nearly four hours in an address to the court. He maintained, as in his opening argument, that there was no corpus delicti and without it the State had no case, which he very coolly maintained. The case went to the jury at 4:30 o'clock.

L. D. S. SENIORS GIVE CLEVER PLAY

Greeted in Barratt Hall With Showers of Vegetables From the Gallery.

JUST ENOUGH hilarity was contributed by the '02 class of the L. D. S. university to the exercises given by the graduating class in Barratt hall last night to keep the audience in an uproar of laughter. While the seniors burlesqued their instructors on the stage the older graduates amused themselves and a majority of the audience by hurling cabbages and other garden products down from the gallery. Everything was going off nicely when Instructor J. C. Horne leaped to his feet in the audience and shouted that he thought the '02s had been in evidence entirely too much, and that they had better give the '04s a chance. No more vegetables were thrown, but it was because the available supply had been exhausted and the end of the programme was too near to replenish the stock.

All of the members of the graduating class took part in the programme, which consisted in a burlesque on the university with a dimly remembered setting. Each instructor was impersonated by one of the students, who took their teacher off in humorous fashion. Jokes and stories on the professors were interspersed with songs and take-offs on the junior exercises of the previous evening.

The scene disclosed when the curtains hiding the stage were first parted was that of the three witches around the steaming cauldron. They painted in graphic colors the futures of Profs. Todd and Hicks. Vegetables came thumping upon the stage from the right balcony.

The second act pictured Archer Wilcox as Prof. Hicks, making love to Roy Porter, dressed in feminine apparel and representing Lady Blitzer as the professor's fiancée. Thomas Brighton, who impersonated Prof. Todd, was taken from the stage and locked in the cellar. More vegetables continued to rain upon the stage.

Act III was the banquet scene. The graduates all responded to toasts with songs on professors and with recitations. They sang college songs and the juniors gave their class yell. In the latter part of the act Prof. Todd breaks from the cellar and with a cap pistol shoots Prof. Hicks. The '02s' second act was a success.

Those taking part in the exercises were as follows: Thomas Boy Brighton, Elmo E. Boggess, John Anderson Butterworth, Ella Maud Baxter, Elizabeth Rachel Cannon, Adelle Morris Cannon, Edith Clayton, Laura Ida Divett, Elizabeth Wilding Emery, Flora Johnson, Pearl Elizabeth Mitchell, Roy Stillman Porter, Laura Elizabeth Peters, Lora Heene Pratt, Caroline Perkins, John Shaw Ship, Martha Ann Wilkinson, Archer Wilcox.

IT WAS A SHAME TO TREAT 'QUIL SO

The old watch-stealing trick was worked successfully yesterday on the Hon. 'Quil Nebeker, by his friend, Hon. L. H. Redd of San Juan county. The trick could never have been worked, however, had not a mean advantage been taken of the victim. He was induced to tell a story to a few friends and the friends listened with respect. Under such circumstances 'Quil's obligation to everything else going on was a "cinch." And it was under such circumstances that Mr. Redd took 'Quil's watch from his pocket, unhooked the chain and deposited the end of it in the otherwise vacant pocket. Then after Nebeker had finished his story he asked the time of day and there was a seizure. The victim of the game fairly went over the stiffness of Zion, and the party went in search of a policeman. When Nebeker was in the midst of his story, Mr. Redd suddenly disappeared and the officer handed over the watch.

SALT PALACE READY FOR THE OPENING

Many improvements have been made at the Salt Palace during the past few weeks, and the patrons of the resort will scarcely recognize the place when its gates are thrown open on May 30. Most of the buildings have been retouched and painted and several new structures added.

A two-story bowery is one of the new features. This was especially designed for the Salt Palace, and will be greatly appreciated by the patrons, especially the younger portion.

The circle swing, an aerial arrangement patterned somewhat after the Ferris wheel, is now in the course of construction, and will be finished in about a week. The dancing pavilion has been remodelled and will again be in operation every evening.

A high-class vaudeville company is booked at the Salt Palace theater. "What Happened to Brown" will be given all next week.

The resort will open Decoration day. Bicycle races will be held in the evening and a performance at the theater. A grand ball will be held in the pavilion.

Confagration at Meadows.

WEISER, Ida, May 27.—Details of the confagration at Meadows are very meagre, owing to the telephone station there being burned. It is learned, however, that the buildings on the upper side of Main street, including the hotel, in which the fire started, two saloons, a barber shop, Riewart's store and a number of other buildings were destroyed, and nothing has been learned as to loss or insurance.

UTAH STREAMS ON A RAMPAGE

Utah's streams are just now breaking all records for high water, at least since Government measurements have been taken. The Provo river is running 1200 second-feet of water, and the Bear river's flow measures 6000 second-feet. The highest previous measurement of the Bear river was 5400 second-feet, while last year's record of the Provo was only 900. The Logan river is carrying about 1000 second-feet, and all of the Cache valley streams are on the rampage. No special damage has been reported by the high water so far, but the heavy rains of the last few days, adding to the volume from the rapid-melting snows in the mountains, have been causing apprehension in some quarters.

Utah lake has risen until the pumping plant is required to raise water for the irrigation canals a distance of only six inches, and it is predicted by some that the lake will reach the compromise point before the high water season is over. The late rains assure good small grain crops for the "dry" farmers and there is no danger of the farm-ers who irrigate suffering for the lack of water this year.

PEDDLER PROSECUTED FOR SHORT MEASURE

Although one peddler has been arrested and convicted of using measures not approved by the City Seal, the result, it is thought by State officials, might be different were a case to be contested and appealed to a higher court.

In the meantime the peddlers are coming in with their measures and having them examined by Sealer of Weights and Measures Richards. Those who come to see him come voluntarily, and say they have reported that to cheat their customers in weight they buy their measures from any peddler they see yesterday he caught one peddler who they thought was using a ready made and take it for granted that they conform to the legal standards. One peddler said yesterday he couldn't understand why they should be prosecuted for using such other measures merely because he had a measure the same shape as those in Mr. Richards's possession. He suggested that the stores using the so-called legal measures be prosecuted. He said that his measures, although not of the same shape as the city's official standards, were of the same cubical capacity. He furthermore stated that he was willing and in fact would much rather sell vegetables and such products by weight than by measure, notwithstanding that the customer would fare better and receive more value by doing so. Potatoes, he said, at this time of the year will not weigh more than fifty pounds in the bushel in any standard of measure while in selling by weight he is compelled to give sixty pounds in the bushel at all seasons.

LITTLE STORY OF LOVE, COURTSHIP AND THEFT

This little story is one of love, courtship and theft. The first act occurred in Ogden, the second is laid in Heber City and the grand finale took place last evening in Salt Lake City.

Edward Bagley, who was a brakeman on the Rio Grande railroad, has been paying marked attention lately to Miss Rachel Shaw in Ogden. He called on her one night about a week ago, and stayed late—so late that the stars hung low and a rosy dawn appeared in the east. When he left, it was with a promise to return. He was alleged, he took Miss Shaw's prettiest gold watch with him. Miss Shaw was not aware of this, however. Next day she discovered her loss and connected it with Bagley. The occurrence was reported to the sheriff and Bagley was found in Heber City and Bagley was taken to Ogden and placed in jail. He denied the crime and any knowledge of it. It is believed that he had pawned the timepiece in this city and today Deputy Sheriff Ernest Sebring came down from Ogden and began what he supposed would be a fruitless search. He was surprised to find the girl's watch at the first pawnshop he visited. It was the place of S. Solomon on Second South street.

CITY RECORDER CRITCHLOW GOES EAST WITH BONDS

City Recorder John W. Critchlow leaves for New York City this morning with the $45,000 in bonds to be delivered to E. R. Rollins & Son. The bonds, which have been issued to refund the issue of July 1, 1902, are of the denomination of $1000 each. They were printed by E. H. Rollins & Son in New York, and shipped to this city to be signed by the proper city officials. It is necessary that each bond be signed by the Mayor and Treasurer and countersigned by the City Recorder. It was found to be less expensive to let Mr. Critchlow take the bonds to New York than to ship them by express. The bonds will be signed by the City Recorder after reaching his destination.

ALL HALLOWS SCORES AGAIN

Brilliant Success of the Annual Concert Before a Fine Audience at the Grand.

It would be difficult to say who carried off the honors at the concert given at the Grand Theatre last evening by All Hallows college. Perhaps it was the orchestra; perhaps it was the band; some people thought it was the Imperial Male quartette, some believed it to be Miss Sigrid Pedersen; many said Willard Squires was the person who did it; there were other opinions, too. But the honors were captured.

There was a full house, composed of many of the best music-lovers in the city, and all of them went away pleased. The audience also included many prominent people of the city.

The College orchestra gave two numbers. It first played Holman's march, "Blaze Away," and followed it up with the favorite "Trovatore."

The Male quartette was a favorite. Its first number was "Banish, Oh, Malden," by Vogel, then the waltz song, "Dearest Maiden," and after this two encores, "I Love My Niece" and "Auntie's Lullaby." Miss Sigrid Pedersen in a splendid soprano voice, sang with marked effect "Oh Fair, Oh Sweet and Holy" by Clapton, and "The Lass With the Delicate Air," by Arne.

Arthur Pedersen brought down the house with an excellent violin solo from Bruch. Salt Lake audiences have come to expect great things of this young artist, every time he appears, and they are never disappointed. Nothing was better than the solo by Willard Squires, "The Holy Fiddler." He was forced to come out again and render a waltz, an old-time drinking song. Then he played Richardson's "Meditation" with excellent finish. The trio was composed of Prof. McMillan, piano; Arthur Pedersen, violin; Prof. Anton Pedersen, viola. When Phillips gave a good rendition of the song "The Olden Days," he was followed by the College band in a dour number, "Alas, Those Chimes," by Wallace and Danke's "Swing." This concluded the concert, which reflects much credit on the entire institution.

QUEEN OF THE CARNIVAL SEEKS CORONATION GOWN

Miss Leah Daniels of Provo was in the city yesterday in quest of a coronation gown to be worn during the Elks' State Association convention in that city next month. The first day of the reunion she is to be crowned queen of the carnival. Her robes will be the finest and most expensive of their kind ever seen in the State upon such an occasion.

The queen is to be attended by eight maids of honor. They will be selected between now and the date of the coronation by the other four Elks lodges in the State. Their gowns will be in keeping with those of Miss Leah.

Almost all the contracts for the features of the midway have been either arranged or signed by Judge M. M. Warner, who has been made director general of the reunion. The last one secured was Prof. Nelson of this city, who will loop the loop every day. There will also be several balloon ascensions.

Two of the principal features of the occasion will be the strawberry festival and the fish dinner. Every visitor to Provo is invited to both. To accommodate the crowds it has been found necessary to contract for several cars of berries and more than five tons of fish. A corps of chefs and assistants from Salt Lake City have been secured to prepare the fish. The product of two large creameries was found necessary to supply the cream for the berries. They will be served by the young women of Provo.

Advices received by the Provo Elks from the other lodges in the State give assurance of the largest gathering of the Best People on Earth in that city next month that Utah has ever seen. The Elks of the State are expected here in 1902. Each lodge will attend in uniform and will participate in the two parades in anticipation of taking one of the several prizes which have been offered for the largest delegation, best appearance and finest uniforms. Eureka and Park City are rivals for the drilings prizes. Two have been offered, one for $150 and the other for $100. In both places the best drilings are practicing, hoping to be awarded the money offered by the Elks.

MORE REASONS THAN ONE FOR O'SULLIVAN RUBBER HEELS.

Ten thousand steps a day make ten thousand reasons a day why walking on hard leather heels, that are made harder with nails, is injurious to the strong and dangerous to the weak.

But be sure to get all the rubber life that your money can buy.
